CONGRATULATIONS

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

On behalf of the Deakin community, I would like to offer my warm congratulations on graduating from Deakin University.

A Deakin qualification is a valuable asset and will assist you as you make your way in the world.

Deakin is still a relatively young university by national and international standards, but is a strong and dynamic university, making a distinctive contribution to higher education nationally and internationally. Deakin ranks in the top 3 per cent of the world's universities in each of the three major global rankings and ranks 50 in the QS ranking of universities less than 50 years.

This Graduation Ceremony celebrates an important milestone. It gives us the opportunity to recognise your achievements publicly, and it also provides an opportunity for you to acknowledge the support you have received from family, friends and staff during your time at University.

For those of you who are receiving your first Deakin University award today, this Graduation Ceremony marks your transition from student to alumnus. It marks the beginning of an important new chapter in your career journey whether to further study or an exciting new job and career.

As a Deakin graduate and alumnus you are joining a vibrant community of scholars who work and live in most countries of the world.

I know that Deakin has prepared you well for whatever you may choose to do now or in the future.

Mr David Morgan

I hope that during your time with us you have made a number of good friends – the alumni network will help you stay in touch with your Deakin family, and your career and life choices will benefit from the connections you make as a Deakin alumnus.

As a graduate of Deakin you are now an important part of our Deakin community and will be so for life. I encourage you to activate your membership to our alumni community by visiting Deakin's alumni website.

On behalf of Deakin's Governing Body, the University Council, I congratulate you on your success and salute also your parents, friends and teachers, whose support and guidance have assisted you to reach this key stage in your life.

Mr David M Morgan
Chancellor

CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

Congratulations! You are now a graduate of Deakin University. Deakin has now graduated over 200 000 graduates since we first opened our doors in 1974.

I am delighted to welcome you as alumni of Deakin and by doing so, to acknowledge your talent, commitment and dedication to your discipline.

During your time at Deakin you have developed a deep understanding of your chosen field, as well as the capacity to work across disciplines and across cultures – depth as well as breadth of knowledge. The rate and pace of change today is breathtaking, but as Deakin graduates I hope you have taken your opportunities to be well prepared for the challenges of 21st century life and careers.

Just as importantly, I am sure you will have developed lifelong friendships and networks, which will serve you well in our globally connected world.

I believe that each of you in your own unique way, whether large or small, whether near or far, will strive to go on to make a difference in your community.

Deakin is a university that works in close partnership with industry, government and the professions to ensure that its teaching programs and its research are relevant and responsive to global needs.

We are committed to ensuring that our programs have contemporary relevance and that our graduates are 'job ready'.

Professor Jane den Hollander

Employers tell us that 'job readiness' is one of the things that they value most about Deakin graduates.

After today, some of you will be joining the workforce and others will continue on to postgraduate study. I encourage you to make the most of your Deakin qualification, whatever you choose to do.

Enjoy the celebration as it is an important and memorable milestone in your life. I hope you look back on your time as a student at Deakin University as happy and fulfilling.

Thank you for choosing Deakin. It has been a privilege to be part of your education and we look forward to staying connected with you throughout your career.

Professor Jane den Hollander
Vice-Chancellor

THE GRADUATION CEREMONY

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF TRADITIONAL LAND OWNERS

Deakin University would like to acknowledge the Wathaurong People of the Kulin Nation, the traditional custodians of the land on which this Graduation Ceremony is taking place. We pay our respects for their continued care of the land and further extend that respect to elders past, present and future.

ORDER OF CEREMONY

Processional music heralds the arrival of the Academic Procession for the graduation ceremony.

At the commencement of this music, graduands and guests are asked to stand and remain standing for the National Anthem.

The Master of Ceremonies will open proceedings and the Chancellor will deliver the opening address. The Vice-Chancellor (or representative) will then introduce the guest speaker who will deliver the occasional address.

The Chancellor will then make a formal declaration conferring the awards of the University on the graduates, both present and in absentia, and he will invite graduates to proceed to the stage according to the order published in the program.

A Faculty Pro Vice-Chancellor (or representative) will read out the names of graduates being presented to the Chancellor.

At the conclusion of the presentation of the graduates, a representative of the graduating students will deliver a brief response.

The Vice-Chancellor (or representative) will deliver the closing address. Following the closing address, there will be a musical performance.

At the conclusion of the ceremony guests are requested to stand while the stage party and graduates leave the hall.

Refreshments will then be served in the marquee in the John Hay Courtyard.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Maces were originally medieval weapons carried by bodyguards to kings and sergeants-at-arms. Much later, the mace became of ceremonial rather than practical significance and organisations such as civic corporations and universities adopted the mace as a symbol of the rule of legal authority.

The University's mace is displayed at meetings of the University Council and on such ceremonial occasions as conferring ceremonies. The bearer of the mace, in academic processions, 'guards' the Chancellor. Deakin's mace was presented to the University by Mr Donald Thomson, Sir Wilfred Brookes and Mr Norman Stephen (Alcoa Australia).

THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

In academic processions, the order of precedence on entry is from junior to most senior. The Chancellor, therefore, is the last member of the procession, followed by the mace-bearer. The Deakin Academic Procession and stage party usually consists of:

ACADEMIC DRESS

Academic dress is an important reminder of the long history of universities in western civilisation. The three main elements of academic dress are the gown, the hood and the head-dress, which were all once articles of everyday outer dress. Both gowns and hoods, when in common use, were often lined and this lining was decorative, as well as practical. In medieval times, the higher the rank of the wearer, the more sumptuous the gown.

In universities there is still a difference in the apparel of scholars of various ranks reflecting the origins of the academic dress. Today's academic head-dress evolved from various hats and bonnets of earlier times. Deakin University's academic dress, like that of most Australian universities, derives from dress worn at the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge.

THE PERFORMERS

Deakin’s graduation ceremonies include a number of live musical performances, including the national anthem and a musical arrangement at the conclusion of the ceremony. These are the biographies of the artists who perform at the ceremonies. Performers may vary between ceremonies.

MICHAEL CRISTIANO

Michael Cristiano is one of Australia’s most highly acclaimed performers and producers. As a producer, his name can be found on numerous multi-platinum selling albums by such artists as The Seekers, Judith Durham, Silverchair, Andre Rieu and Gene Pitney amongst many other big names. He has also wowed audiences on stage as a singer and guitarist. He is one of the country’s most respected musicians and composers, has taken home many music awards and played live to an international audience of millions at the AFL Grand Final with his own composition ‘Rock The G’.

RON MURRAY

Ron Murray is a Wamba Wamba man (Swan Hill area) living at Yapeen, near Castlemaine in central Victoria on Jaara country. He has performed as a didgeridoo soloist widely in Australia and also in New York, Jordan, Canada and New Zealand.

Ron has performed for Queen Elizabeth II, Yusuf Islam (Cat Stevens), Sir Bob Geldof and Muhammed Ali. Musical highlights include performing at the world premiere of American composer Phillip Glass’ Voices for Didgeridoo, Organ and Narrator (2001) with Mark Atkin, Calvin Bowman and Joy Murphy-Wandlin at the Lincoln Center Festival, New York.

Ron regularly performs as a foundation member of the Deep Listening Band, a collaboration of indigenous and non-indigenous musicians and artists based on the indigenous philosophy of Dadirri.

MARY CATANCHIN

Singer-Songwriter Mary Catanchin has entertained in countless shows throughout Australia for the past six years. She is no stranger to the big stage, performing in venues such as Crown Palladium, The Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre, Federation Square, Etihad Stadium and Crown Casino Perth for corporate and public events. In 2014 Mary’s original band Heavy Feather released their debut E.P. ‘Carry you Home’ which received community radio airplay as well as being featured on Triple M’s Homegrown Program, which aired nationally. Currently Mary fronts popular cover band Every Avenue, performing up to four nights a week throughout Melbourne.

JANEVA BURRILL

Janeva Burrill is a 19 year old singer/song writer from Geelong. She grew up in a very musical family. Her mum, Gayle taught her how to sing from a very young age. She also had a love of dancing and developed a strong passion for performing arts. She was involved in multiple local theatre productions singing, dancing, and acting.

Janeva joined the Soul Band 'The Sweethearts' as a lead/backing vocalist, which gave her the opportunity to tour Europe in 2012 and later USA in 2014. Whilst in the band for 4 years she found a love of song writing, to which she wrote her first original 'WOMAN', which is now the feature song for ABC3's Documentary 'Heart and Soul'. After graduating, Janeva is now vocal mentoring for 'The Sweethearts', teaching private vocal lessons from home, as well as song writing and performing in her vocal trio, 'PIYAH'.

JESSICA MARKOVSKI

Jessica Markovski is a year 12 student studying at Matthew Flinders Girls Secondary Collage, aspiring to achieve a career in the music industry.

Praised for her remarkable ability to play numerous instruments and her musicianship, she has established and is consistently greeted with exceptional accolades by world known musicians. She has toured Europe and America singing with the band 'The Sweethearts', playing at festivals such as Summerfest, Jazz A Vienne, Poretta Soul festival, Montreaux Jazz festival and she has sung at the legendary BB King's café in Memphis Tennessee. Jessica will be appearing in the second series of 'Heart and Soul' on ABC 3.

THE UNIVERSITY

ALFRED DEAKIN

Deakin University was named in honour of Alfred Deakin (1856–1919), a remarkable Australian statesman, leading figure of the federation movement and three-time Prime Minister of Australia.

Alfred Deakin was a man of broad vision. Praised as a political leader, he was an outstanding orator, accomplished lawyer, a journalist, poet, an intellectual and an idealist motivated by a sense of duty to his country.

The son of English migrants, Alfred Deakin was born and educated in Melbourne, studying law at the University of Melbourne. He embarked upon a career in journalism with The Age and was a prolific reader of literature, philosophy, law and science, earning most of his income as a writer of social and political commentaries.

In 1879, Alfred Deakin launched his political career and became a successful Liberal candidate for the Victorian Parliament. A believer in democratic social reform, he became the acknowledged leader of the Australian Federation movement in Victoria. He was an active campaigner, a delegate at the federal conventions, member of the constitutional drafting committee and colonial representative in London.

Alfred Deakin was Deputy Prime Minister and Attorney-General in Australia's first government and, in 1903, he became Prime Minister. His many achievements include the establishment of the High Court of Australia, the introduction of labour and social reforms, the promulgation of new technologies, such as irrigation and wireless telegraphy, support for the exploration of Antarctica and the introduction of financial support for Australian writers.

Alfred Deakin

The values of innovation, leadership, scholarship and reform embodied in Alfred Deakin are also fundamental values of Deakin University.

ABOUT DEAKIN UNIVERSITY

Deakin University is Australia's ninth largest university. As a public not-for-profit university, Deakin combines excellent research and teaching with a strong focus on strengthening the communities it serves.

The University was established with the Deakin University Act of 1974 as Victoria's fourth university and the first in regional Victoria. Today it has more than 50 000 students, of whom approximately 7000 are international students from more than 100 countries. Almost 14 000 students choose to study via cloud (online) learning.

Deakin University has four campuses – one in Melbourne, two in Geelong and one in Warrnambool. Each campus has a distinctive character, rich culture and a strong presence in the local community.

In addition, Deakin has prestigious multipurpose facilities in the Melbourne, Geelong and Warrnambool CBDs, a network of learning centres stretching across outer metropolitan and regional Victoria, and international offices in India, China and Indonesia.

Deakin is a sector leader for student satisfaction, currently third in Australia and first in Victoria for the 5th consecutive year (Australian Graduate Survey 2010–14). Deakin has a student-focused culture with a well-deserved reputation for being accessible, helpful and friendly. It has a long standing record for using cutting-edge information technology in education, while providing highly personalised experiences.

Advances in research have been a hallmark of Deakin's success in recent years, with impressive growth in quality, impact and income.

In the most recent Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) rankings, Deakin Research received the top ranking of five in seven fields of research and a ranking of four in 11 fields of research. Both rankings are defined as well above world standard.

Deakin is renowned for developing award-winning partnerships with industry, governments, communities, professional associations and other education providers. Building on successes across Australia, these alliances now spread to more than 30 countries. Deakin's alumni networks also stretch across the globe, with more than 200 000 members from more than 110 countries.

BUILDING ON THE UNIVERSITY'S SUCCESS

Deakin University's Strategic Plan – LIVE the future: Agenda 2020 – provides a framework for a bold and exciting future, while remaining true to the University's founding goals:

- to develop lasting and mutually beneficial relationships with rural and regional communities, in particular those in Geelong and Western Victoria
- to offer an educational experience that will widen participation and support students from diverse backgrounds.

These important aims continue to be core to the future of Deakin University. However, in a world that is now globally connected and where excellence and new ideas are available at the touch of a button, we will ensure that engagement and innovation 'anywhere' and 'everywhere we are' is grounded in all aspects of Deakin life – its teaching, its research and its enterprise – to enable our students and staff to thrive and to excel.

The University's vision and mission for its students, staff, alumni, partners and friends is to offer a convenient and personalised relationship, creating the power and opportunities to live the future in a new world. Deakin will also be Australia's premier university in driving the digital frontier – to enable globally connected education for the jobs of the future, and research that makes a difference to the communities we serve.

As a globally joined university, informed by its Australian and Victorian context and engaged locally in the communities it serves, Deakin promises to advance:

- learning – offer brilliant education where you are and where you want to go
- ideas – make a difference through world-class innovation and research
- value – strengthen our communities, enable our partners and enhance our enterprise
- experience – delight our students, our alumni, our staff and our friends.

For all these reasons, Deakin University occupies an important place in the Australian higher education landscape.

FAST FACTS ABOUT DEAKIN

- Deakin was established by the Victorian Parliament in 1974 as a 'university in the Geelong area'. Deakin began teaching on 1 April 1977.
- Deakin University is named after Alfred Deakin, who is often called Australia's Voice of Federation and was Prime Minister three times between 1903 and 1910.
- Deakin was the first Australian university to be named after a politician.
- When it was established, Deakin incorporated two existing Geelong-based institutions – the Geelong State College and the Gordon Institute of Technology.
- Deakin initially operated from four sites, all in Geelong: the Waurin Ponds Campus it inherited from the Gordon Institute, the Vines Road Campus of the Geelong State Teachers College and two smaller locations.
- Deakin had approximately 2500 students in its first year (1977), rising to 4800 in 1980.
- By 1984, Deakin had consolidated its operations at the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus.
- Deakin's growth outside Geelong began in 1990 when it amalgamated with the Warrnambool Institute of Advanced Education. This continued in 1991 when it amalgamated with Victoria College, which operated from Burwood, Toorak and Clayton.
- The amalgamations with the Warrnambool Institute and Victoria College saw Deakin's student numbers more than triple in the five years leading up to 1992.
- In 1993 Deakin was described as the 'Rolls Royce' of universities offering distance education.
- Deakin was one of the first Australian universities to embrace professional and continuing education to corporate clients, establishing Deakin Australia (now known as DeakinPrime) in 1993.
- In the mid-1970s, the disused woolstores on the waterfront in central Geelong was one site considered and rejected for the proposed university that was to become Deakin. In 1996, this idea came to fruition with the opening of the Geelong Waterfront Campus. The campus is the result of an award-winning reconstruction of the buildings.
- Enrolments at the Geelong Waterfront Campus rose by 77 per cent in the five years leading up to 2008.
- In 2008, the Deakin University School of Medicine opened, becoming Victoria's first rural and regional medical school.
- In 2009, the refurbished Dennys Lascelles Building was reopened, housing the Deakin Geelong Health Precinct and the Alfred Deakin Research Institute.
- In September 2011, Deakin announced the investment of $5 million over the next five years to place its Warrnambool Campus in the international spotlight for marine and aquaculture research and teaching.
- In December 2011, the first medical graduates were conferred.
- February 2012 saw the first intake of students in the new Bachelor of Vision Science/Master of Optometry degree (within the School of Medicine). By utilising the University's three trimester system, the course is Australia's only accelerated sequential optometry program, completed in just under 3.5 years of full-time study.

- In July 2012, Deakin University launched its new Strategic Plan – LIVE the future: Agenda 2020.
  - In response to continued growth in student and staff numbers at Deakin, since 2013 new buildings and major improvements include:
    - the iconic gateway building at the Melbourne Burwood Campus
    - Australian Future Fibres Research Innovation Centre at the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus
    - expansion of student accommodation at the Geelong Waurin Ponds and Warrnambool campuses.
  - In March 2014 the University declared it would be a smoke-free environment. This includes all Deakin campuses, motor vehicles and extramural premises, such as field stations, regional campuses, galleries and theatres. This policy was implemented to create a healthy and safe environment for all Deakin students, staff and associates. The University will also encourage smokers to reduce or quit smoking and will support this process through health campaigns and cessation support.
  - In March 2014 Deakin opened the third of its learning centre sites in Werribee. The University's learning centres now include:
    - Deakin Learning Centre in Dandenong
    - Hume Global Learning Centre in Craigieburn
    - Werribee Learning Centre.
  - In May 2014, the $34 million globally unique cutting-edge carbon fibre research and innovation facility, Carbon Nexus, officially opened at the Geelong Waurin Ponds Campus.
  - In December 2014, Deakin celebrated its 200 000th graduate.
  - In 2014, Deakin received three citations for outstanding contributions to student learning from the Australian Government's Office for Learning and Teaching, with Associate Professor Kieran Lim from the School of Life and Environmental Sciences receiving a prestigious Award for Teaching Excellence.
  - Deakin's recent awards and achievements include:
    - a ranking in the top 3 per cent of universities across all three of the major international university ranking systems (the Academic Ranking of World Universities, Times Higher Education World University Rankings and QS World University Rankings), assessed from 17 000 universities worldwide
    - number one ranking in Victoria for graduates' overall satisfaction with the quality of their course for five consecutive years (Australian Graduate Survey)
    - ranked in the world's top 50 universities under 50 years of age (QS World University Rankings)
    - placement in the top 400 universities in the world (Academic Ranking of World Universities)
    - ranked first in Victoria for the Good Teaching Scale and Generic Skills Scale (Australian Graduate Survey)
    - five star rating for our MBA (Graduate Management Association of Australia and QS accreditation).

THE CAMPUSES

Deakin is a large university with all the accompanying resources and infrastructure, but its campuses are small enough to retain their own character and sense of community. Each of our campuses offers a unique atmosphere – from the inspiring architecture and bayside appeal of our Geelong Waterfront Campus, to the cafe culture of our Melbourne Burwood Campus, the spectacular coastal location at our Warrnambool Campus or the mix of activity and open space at our Geelong Wauran Ponds Campus.

MELBOURNE BURWOOD CAMPUS

This thriving campus is Deakin's largest and attracts more than 23 000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. Located 15 km from the Melbourne CBD, it boasts open and inviting spaces for socialising and studying, innovative architecture and wireless locations. An ambitious building program has resulted in a new complex of spacious modern buildings, including the recently completed gateway building situated on Burwood Highway. Refurbishment of older buildings, a library extension, expansion of residential accommodation, a 250-seat lecture theatre and a large landscaped central courtyard have all created a campus that is well-resourced and well-designed. The campus is home to the Deakin University Art Gallery and the Deakin Motion.Lab, a state-of-the-art motion capture facility that produces 3D animation and special effects, similar to those used in films such as Avatar and The Lord of the Rings.

GEELONG WAURN PONDS CAMPUS

Deakin's Geelong Wauran Ponds Campus is located 8 km from the centre of the historic port city of Geelong, which is 72 km south-west of Melbourne. Geelong is Victoria's largest regional city with a population close to 225 000.

Set among extensive landscaped grounds, the Geelong Wauran Ponds Campus boasts hectares of native trees, grassy lawns, lakes and avenues. There are many specialist facilities at this campus, including an outstandingly resourced library, audiovisual production studios, research laboratories and an extensive computer centre. Also located at the Geelong Wauran Ponds Campus is the Geelong Technology Precinct, which provides research and development capabilities and opportunities for university–industry partnerships and new enterprises in the region, as well as the Deakin Management Centre, which provides first-class conference and convention facilities. The Deakin School of Medicine is located in a renovated, purpose-designed building. The medical precinct at this campus will be significantly upgraded, with Epworth HealthCare committing to build a 250-bed private hospital. In addition, the State Liberal Government has committed $85 million for a 32-bed public hospital.

GEELONG WATERFRONT CAMPUS

The Geelong Waterfront Campus is Deakin's newest campus, located on the beautiful foreshore of Corio Bay in the central business district of Geelong. Originally built in 1893, the historic woolstore building has undergone extensive redevelopment to create a modern and impressive campus centre.

The centrepiece of the campus is Costa Hall, a concert hall of international standard, where a number of university ceremonies, cultural performances and community functions take place, including Deakin's graduation ceremonies.

Also located at this campus is the refurbished Sally Walker Building, which houses the Alfred Deakin Prime Ministerial Library and the Alfred Deakin Research Institute. The Alfred Deakin Research Institute is an interdisciplinary teaching and research centre covering political science, public policy and governance, international relations, globalisation, journalism and communications.

WARRNAMBOOL CAMPUS

Warrnambool is the commercial, cultural and educational heart of south-west Victoria. A premier tourist destination, it boasts stunning coastlines, renowned surf beaches and is the state's foremost site for whale watching.

Located 262 km (a three-hour drive) from Melbourne, the campus is set on 114 sprawling hectares on the banks of the picturesque Hopkins River. Our lecturers, students and staff at the Warrnambool Campus form a real community, where communication is open and informal.

Campus facilities include a comprehensive library, excellent teaching and learning spaces, a cafe, gymnasium, bookshop and golf course. Located just 5 km from the centre of Warrnambool, the campus ensures that Deakin contributes to the vitality of the local community in the tradition of many university cities.

INSTITUTE OF KOORIE EDUCATION

Deakin University is proud to have the largest number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students of any Victorian university.

The Institute of Koorie Education commenced in 1991 and offers programs that are structured around off-campus community-based delivery, supported by on-campus intensive study blocks and complemented by local tutors at regional study centres.

This approach to course delivery promotes access and equity for Indigenous Australian students. Students from all areas of the country; rural, remote and metropolitan, and across all age ranges, particularly mature age, are able to undertake studies without compromising their family and community obligations. In Australia, only a very small number of universities offer degree courses through off-campus study mode and among these, it is Deakin that has developed a comprehensive and sustained range of course offerings.

MR MALCOLM SPEED AO

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Mr Malcolm Speed AO.

Malcolm Speed has had a long and varied career as a lawyer, sports administrator, and company director.

After 20 years as a senior basketball administrator, Mr Speed was appointed in 1997 as Chief Executive of Cricket Australia. In 2001 he was appointed as Chief Executive of the International Cricket Council, a position he held up to 2008.

Mr Speed now works as a consultant, company director and university lecturer and is widely regarded as one of Australia's leading sports administrators. In 2012 Mr Speed was inducted into the Sport Australia Hall of Fame.

Mr Speed is President of Cycling Australia, Chairman of Sports Environment Alliance, a Director of Victorian Major Events Company, Golf Australia, Richmond Football Club and The Coalition of Major Professional and Participation Sports.

Mr Speed lectures in Sports Law at Melbourne University and Sports Administration at Deakin University.

PROFESSOR HARRY WEISINGER

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Professor Harry Weisinger.

Professor Weisinger is an optometrist and graduated from the University of Melbourne's Bachelor of Science in Optometry in 1993. He subsequently undertook post graduate research studies in the field of visual neuroscience, in particular investigating the role of omega-3 fatty acids in eye development, also at the University of Melbourne. He graduated with the Master of Science in Optometry in 1996 and Doctor of Philosophy in 1999.

Professor Weisinger's research interests expanded to focus on the role of the central nervous system in controlling blood pressure, body weight and body fat and, for his achievements, he was awarded grants and Fellowships from the National Health and Medical Research Council and the Australian Research Council. His post doctoral work was performed at the University of Melbourne, RMIT University, the Howard Florey Institute and the National Institutes of Health in the USA.

While working as a scientist and also as an optometrist, Professor Weisinger enrolled in and completed medical studies at the University of Melbourne, graduating with the MBBS in 2005.

For 3 years between 2008 and 2010, Professor Weisinger served as Director of Professional Services for Specsavers Optometrists where he was accountable for a range of activities including professional recruitment and professional development. It was during this period that he formulated the plans for a brand new optometry program.

Professor Weisinger was the Foundation Director of Optometry and Chair in Optometry, and was responsible for the establishment of the optometry program here at Deakin University. Having successfully achieved this, he left the University in July this year to commence work on various optometric advancement projects, both locally and abroad.

Professor Weisinger also maintains his private practice, working as a general practitioner with a special interest in body weight reduction.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Natalie Amos

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Self-Perceived Sexual Attractiveness: Differences and Contributing Factors Across Gender and Sexual Orientation.'

Summary

This thesis explored factors associated with feeling sexually attractive among men and women across different sexual orientations. A combination of physical and non-physical traits were found to predict positive self-ratings of sexual attractiveness, and feeling sexy was found to positively contribute to various aspects of an individual's sexuality.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor David Mellor

Co-Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Marita McCabe

Yasmin Asgari

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Daily Goals, Cognitions and Depression in Australia and Iran.'

Summary

A new scale, the Daily Goals Scale was developed and validated as a measure of propensity to set and achieve small daily goals in three independent, follow-up studies among Australian, Iranian, and Iranian-Australian community samples. It demonstrated adequate psychometric properties as an easy-to-use self-report measure.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Lina Ricciardelli

Ajay Ashok

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Novel Protein and Atenolol Co-encapsulated Nanocapsules to Impede Cardiomyocyte Apoptosis.'

Summary

The research conducted was based on regenerating the dying heart cells (cardiomyocytes) by employing novel therapeutic proteins and their respective co-encapsulated nanoformulation with an antihypertensive drug. This promising therapeutic strategy to revive the heart can help in the treatment of several cardiac pathologies such as myocardial infarction and drug induced cardiotoxicity.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Rupinder Kanwar

Mary Teresa Barnao

Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Good Lives Model: A Strength-Based Approach to Forensic Rehabilitation.'

Summary

The aim of the research was to explore whether the Good Lives Model (GLM) of offender rehabilitation could enhance the manner in which forensic rehabilitation is undertaken. The results were encouraging but suggested that greater attention to the wider system is required for full and effective implementation of the GLM.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Sharon Casey

Christine Brown*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Autism Spectrum Disorder, Essential Fatty Acids and Infant Feeding.'

Summary

The research identified the importance of breastfeeding duration and essential fatty acids in children. The research found that children who were breastfed for a longer duration in infancy were significantly less likely to have a diagnosis of autism or show signs of a fatty acid deficiency.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor David Austin

Rajneesh Chaudhary*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Zinc Doped Ferrite Magnetic Resonance Imaging Contrast Agent for Atherosclerosis.'

Summary

This project focuses on the development of zinc doped ferrite nanoparticle based MRI contrast agents with enhanced contrast and site-specific targeting for atherosclerosis diagnosis. The engineered nanocomplexes developed were validated through MRI scans using rat models with potential for multimodal imaging and effective therapy.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Jagat Kanwar

Shu Wen Chen*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Decision-Making on Birth Choices Following a Caesarean Delivery in Taiwan.'

Summary

A qualitative research aimed to explore decision-making on birth choices following a caesarean delivery in Taiwan. Safety and risk management were the major influences for both Taiwanese women's and obstetricians' decisions. Biased information provision regarding birth options and over-medicalisation of the birth environment contributed to women seeking repeat caesarean deliveries.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Tracey Bucknall

Carolyn Marie Dancevic*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Dissecting ADAMTS Proteoglycanase Biology in Development and Disease.'

Summary

This research was focused upon members of the ADAMTS family of 'proteinases', proteins that have enzymatic activity. Their dysregulation can cause developmental defects and disease. This thesis describes the expression and regulation of ADAMTS15, as well as new developmental functions and inhibition of ADAMTS5 in arthritis.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Alister Ward

Samaneh Ghasemi Fard*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Bioavailability of Long Chain Omega-3 Polyunsaturated Fatty Acids.'

Summary

It has been well documented that the ingestion of omega-3 polyunsaturated fatty acids (n-3 LC-PUFA) can improve health. However, little scientific attention has been paid on the actual bioavailability of n-3 LC-PUFA. In this thesis, several nutritional questions related to bioavailability of n-3 LC-PUFA have been answered by animal model.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Paul Lewandowski

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andrew Sinclair (retired)

Jessica Gibbons*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Bovine Lactoferrin Targets Apoptotic and EGFR Mechanisms in Breast Cancer.'

Summary

This research investigated the anti-cancer effects of milk protein, lactoferrin. It was found that lactoferrin specifically induced cell death in breast cancer cells and was non-toxic to normal mammary gland cells. Key molecular mechanisms targeted by lactoferrin were elucidated in this study which provides important insight into the activity of this protein as an anti-cancer agent.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Rupinder Kanwar

Linda Jane Hartley-Clark*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Investigating the Affective Core of SWB: the Circular Way.'

Summary

This thesis builds on premises from the subjective wellbeing homeostasis theoretical framework, and applies constructs from circumplex theories of affect. The findings inform basic affective science by using circumplex modeling and curve-fitting to identify the set-point core affective state associated with normal self-perceptions, and overall life satisfaction.

Principal Supervisor:

Emeritus Professor Robert Cummins

Edward Hinch*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Mechanisms and Treatment of Cardiac Atrophy Secondary to Cancer Cachexia.'

Summary

This research found that oxidative stress and activation of pro-inflammatory molecules is a feature of heart protein loss secondary to cancer wasting. Treatment with an omega-3 fatty acid is able to protect against heart muscle loss in cancer by reducing gene transcripts of both pro-inflammatory and oxidative molecules.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Paul Lewandowski

Christina Kozar*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Therapeutic Alliance and Personality Dysfunction in Offending Behaviour Programs.'

Summary

Therapists in offending behaviour programs use a range of strategies to develop the therapeutic alliance to promote treatment collaboration. They described significant difficulties, however, in responding to personality dysfunction. Analysis of treatment sessions revealed therapists often attempted to engage clients but did not often use ruptures in the alliance as therapeutic opportunities or attend to withdrawn clients. Recommendations are made to better support correctional therapists utilise the alliance to maximise treatment outcomes.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andrew Day

Kathryn Mifsud*Whose thesis was entitled:

'PTEX Characterisation and its Role in Plasmodium Virulence and Survival.'

Summary

Malaria parasites remodel erythrocytes for their survival. They passage proteins into the host cell via an export machinery known as PTEX. For the first time, this study shows that different types of parasite-exported proteins use PTEX. Importantly, new drugs can be developed which target PTEX components to eliminate an infection.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Tania De Koning-Ward

Vengama Naidu Modepalli*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Marsupial: A Unique Model for Understanding the Regulation of Lung Development.'

Summary

The project has exploited an Australian marsupial, tamar wallaby, as an experimental model to understand lung development. This research has focused on identifying the factors that regulate lung development and to develop new intervention therapies to improve health outcomes in human premature and low birth weight babies.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Ken Walder

Steven Edward John Moylan*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Cigarette Smoking and Increased Anxiety Symptoms and Disorders.'

Summary

This research project demonstrated that exposure to cigarette smoke in adolescence, childhood and in utero is prospectively associated with increased levels of anxiety later in life. The results suggest smoking is a plausible risk factor for developing higher levels of anxiety, informing multiple areas for future research into anxiety pathogenesis.

Princial Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Michael Berk

Kerrie Anne Shandley*Whose thesis was entitled:

'An Investigation of the Potential Association between Mercury and Autism Spectrum Disorder: An Interdisciplinary Approach.'

Summary

The research took a novel approach to investigate the mercury-autism hypothesis. The studies unearthed conflicting results. Contrary to previous biological studies, autistic children did not demonstrate a pattern of mercury toxicity. However, in a world first, the study found that the rate of autism among children with a family history of mercury sensitivity was 6–7 times higher than the general population.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor David Austin

Jayanth Surya Narayanan
Shankara Narayanan*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Molecular Regulation of Survivin Targeted Nano-Therapy in Advanced Prostate Cancer.'

Summary

The study demonstrated for the first time, the survivin targeted anti-cancer therapeutic activity of the bio-molecular drugs such as SurR9-C84A and bovine lactoferrin in inducing prostate cancer specific apoptosis. Moreover, improved therapeutic efficacy was conferred to these bio-molecules either by their encapsulation in stem cell targeted bio-compatible nanoparticles, or by the synthesis of protein-cytotoxic drug conjugates. This study also highlighted the role played by miRNAs in the regulation of iron metabolism and apoptosis, mediated by the selective activation of p53 and PTEN pathways.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Rupinder Kanwar

Neha Singh*Whose thesis was entitled:

'A Natural Biodrug Targeting Melanomas with Varying Mutational Status.'

Summary

This project helped develop a natural therapeutic protein for treating skin cancer that varies in their mutational and drug-resistant status. It helped target molecules and markers that were critical in skin cancer development and progression. It also focused on the importance of using natural therapeutics when compared to other treatment regimens.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Rupinder Kanwar

Sean Peter Tinker*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Flourishing Through Identification and Engagement: Sustaining Employee Health and Effectiveness.'

Summary

Work identification was found to predict workforce flourishing and employee health. In particular, work group identification was more predictive than organisation identification. A newly tested construct of engagement climate was added to the model of workforce flourishing and was found to predict identification and workforce flourishing, suggesting potential promotional pathways.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Joe Graffam

DOCTOR OF PSYCHOLOGY (CLINICAL)

Louisa Stefanie De Silva*Whose thesis was entitled:

'An Examination of the Influence of Maternal Depression Trajectories on Child Cognitive Development and Adolescent Psychotic Experiences.'

Summary

This thesis investigated trajectories of maternal depression over time, and their influence on offspring's cognitive development in childhood and subsequent risk of psychotic experiences in early adolescence. Offspring's IQ was also examined as a potential mediator of the relationship between maternal depression and offspring's risk of psychotic experiences.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Andrew Lewis

Katherine June Ebacioni*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Sexual Orientation and Psychological Distress: The Role of Minority Stress.'

Summary

The thesis found that personal homonegativity/binegativity and discrimination are important when considering risk for depression and anxiety in gay men, lesbian women, bisexual men and bisexual women. The thesis also highlights the important role intrapersonal resilience can have in partially protecting sexual minority groups against these stressors.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Lina Ricciardelli

Co-Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Marita McCabe

Cherie Mae Jones*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Influence of Preconception Depression and Postpartum Depression upon Parent-Infant Bonding.'

Summary

Depression occurring during adolescence can predict poorer emotional bonding between parent and infant many years later for both men and women. However, postpartum depression continues to have the largest impact on parent-infant bonding for both mothers and fathers, over and above depression occurring at any other time.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Craig Olsson

Co-Supervisor:

Ms Emma Gould

Amanda Clare Lamont*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Perspective Taking as a Mechanism through which Social Comparisons Relate to Body Dissatisfaction.'

Summary

Social perspective taking is argued to represent a cognitive-developmental mechanism that is implicated in the development of body dissatisfaction, and a mechanism through which social comparisons relate to body dissatisfaction. Overall, the findings did not support the proposed hypotheses.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor David Mellor

Emily Rachel Prytula

Whose thesis was entitled:

'School-Based Prevention of Anxiety and Depressive Symptoms in Children.'

Summary

This thesis examined school-based prevention of anxiety and depressive symptoms in children, focusing on the role of social comparisons, self-concepts and self-esteem. Findings highlighted that elements particularly important for the success of universal prevention programs were parental involvement, booster sessions, and teacher and school involvement.

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Attachment, Developmental Tasks and Coping in the Transition to University.'

Summary

Students commencing university were surveyed three times to identify what individual variables facilitated positive adjustment experiences. Student's attachment orientations were found to be strongly associated with their university adjustment, and this was mediated by student's use of different coping strategies and their negotiation of the developmental tasks of young adulthood.

DOCTOR OF PSYCHOLOGY (HEALTH)

Laura Smith

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Behaviour Problems and Cognitive Skills in Adolescents with Down Syndrome.'

Summary

This study investigated whether IQ, language, theory of mind, emotion recognition, social skills and a behavioural marker of early neurodegeneration contributed to the externalising and internalising behaviour problems of children and adolescents with Down syndrome. Pragmatic language, social skills and neurodegeneration variables were significantly related to behaviour problems.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Jarrad Lum

DOCTOR OF PSYCHOLOGY (FORENSIC)

Catherine Bernadette Andrews*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Community Members' Attitudes Toward the Reintegration of Ex-Offenders.'

Summary

This study explored community readiness to support ex-prisoner reintegration; a sentencing objective requiring active community participation. Findings indicate the community support reintegration. Certain conditions maximised support. Abstract reintegrative policy was endorsed over personal involvement in ex-prisoner reintegration; ex-prisoners demonstrating an ability to be 'redeemed' and non-stereotypical ex-offender-types received greater support.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Joe Graffam

Co-Supervisor:

Professor Don Thomson

Adelle Vivienne Edwards*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Processes of Change in the Transition to Adulthood.'

Summary

A re-conceptualisation of the risk process was an outcome of this research, from which a positioning theory of crime was developed to explain more comprehensively the causal mechanisms by which risk effects are exerted and conduce to offending behaviour.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor David Mellor

Lyndsay Anne Hoyle*Whose thesis was entitled:

'An Integration of Attachment Theory and Reinforcement Sensitivity Theory as a Conceptual Framework for Understanding Trauma.'

Summary

The research examined the associations between Reinforcement Sensitivity Theory, Attachment Theory, and trauma symptoms among victims of interpersonal violence. Findings demonstrated a link between attachment, threat sensitivity, and trauma symptoms, indicating that RST and Attachment Theory provides a useful theoretical framework to understand how interpersonal violence contributes to psychological trauma.

AWARD OF HONORARY DEGREE

The honorary degree of Doctor of Science will be conferred upon Mr Leon Kempler OAM for eminent public service, especially distinguished service in the scientific and technological community.

MR LEON KEMPLER OAM

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Mr Leon Kempler OAM, Chair of Questacon, the National Science and Technology Centre in Canberra.

Leon Kempler has a passion for education, innovation and entrepreneurship.

Mr Kempler is a Jewish community leader and a driving force in forging and strengthening ties between Australia and Israel, and in the development of international trade relationships.

Mr Kempler is currently involved with a number of universities both in Australia and overseas and has also been active in the Australia-Israel Chamber of Commerce since 1987, when he was appointed its National and State (Victoria) Chairman. In 1998 Mr Kempler received a Medal of the Order of Australia for his tireless efforts and contribution to furthering Australia-Israel bi-lateral trade and relations.

Mr Kempler is involved in various business activities including Chair of innovative education provider Dücere. His honorary roles include: Chairman of the Advisory Council of the National Science and Technology Centre (Questacon), Chairman of Dücere Foundation Africa, Director of Wonderment Walk Victoria, Director of the Royal Children's Hospital Foundation Victoria, Chairman of the Audit Committee of the Royal Children's Hospital, Director of the General Sir John Monash Foundation, Patron of the Victorian Chapter of the Australia Africa Business Council (AABC), and International Adviser for the Israel Science, Technology & Innovation Policy Institute.

Mr Kempler was Chair of the Melbourne Jazz Festival from 2007–2013 and has been a Member of the Chancellor's Circle, Deakin University, since 2005.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Ivy Qiu Blackman

Whose thesis was entitled:

'A Model Improving Estimating Accuracy and Efficiency of Low-Rise Residential Buildings.'

Summary

This research is the first of its kind to actually test and validate the use of the Pareto Principle in the cost estimating of low-rise residential buildings based on a large empirical data sample. This research has allowed statistical analysis to establish new cost estimating models to better estimate construction costs to clients.

This research also extended the investigation by applying a questionnaire survey to gather opinions from practising quantity surveyors on the setting of estimated indirect costs.

'Investigation of Corrosion Inhibition Mechanisms of Rare-Earth Mercaptoacetate Inhibitors on AA2024-T3.'

Summary

Corrosion inhibition mechanisms on the aerospace alloy, AA2024-T3, was investigated for the inhibitor combination of rare earth metals and mercaptoacetate. The inhibitor demonstrated synergistic protection for AA2024-T3 from localised corrosion. It is intended to be a more environmentally friendly alternative to toxic chromate-based inhibitors.

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Grain Refinement in Titanium Alloys through Thermomechanical Processing.'

Summary

This study developed a novel thermomechanical processing route for the grain refinement of titanium alloys. This leads to a well-balanced superior mechanical property, which is vital for modern air transport. The outcomes of this project are prospective to enhance titanium application and the long-term viability of Australian resources and manufacturing industries.

Dr Hossein Beladi

Yunfei Ding

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Biocompatible Magnesium Alloys for Hard Tissue Engineering.'

Summary

Novel Mg-Zr-Sr and Mg-1Zr-2Sr-xDy/yHo alloys have recently been developed for use as biodegradable implant materials. These alloys are recommended to be promising biodegradable implant materials as they have enhanced corrosion resistance and excellent biocompatibility.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Yuncang Li

Hussein Medhat Haggag*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Supervised Learning for Labelling Human Body with Attached Props.'

Summary

In this research, a novel method for generating training data of human postures with attached objects is proposed. The results has shown a significant increase in body-part classification accuracy for subjects with props from 60% to 94% using the generated image set.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Mohammed Hossny

Jill Amber Hnatiuk*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Understanding Young Children's Physical Activity.'

Summary

The promotion of physical activity in young children is warranted, as many children under age three do not meet current Australian physical activity recommendations. Mothers appear to play an important role in shaping children's physical activity during the first years of life.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Kylie Hesketh

Mohammad Anwar Hosen*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Prediction Interval-based Modelling and Control of Nonlinear Processes.'

Summary

Novel computational intelligence-based methods have been investigated to quantify uncertainties prevalent in the operation of chemical plants. A new family of predication interval-based controlling algorithms is proposed and successfully applied to chemical reactors in order to minimise energy consumption and operational cost.

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Saeid Nahavandi

Jasjeet Kaur*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Silk Cocoon: Structure and Properties.'

Summary

This study investigated the silk cocoon structure and its protective roles. It focussed mainly on three protection roles; viz mechanical protection (indentation), bacterial, and UV protection. Silk cocoon absorbed UV-A and UV-B radiations and had the potential to be used as a photoprotective agent in sunscreens.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Xungai Wang

Yanan Lv*Whose thesis was entitled:

'A Molecular Dynamics Simulation of Alloy Carbide Clusters Formation.'

Summary

The formation of alloy carbide cluster in ferrite was investigated via molecular dynamics simulation, which disclosed the cluster property and formation mechanism. These together provided a better fundamental understanding of the cluster formation and firm information for the evolution of cluster and precipitate in high-strength low-alloy steel.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Weimin Gao

Yasser Mafi Nejad*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Development of a Low Actuation Voltage Electrostatic RF MEMS Switch.'

Summary

The research focused on the design, fabrication and measurement of a low actuation voltage micro electro mechanical high frequency switch. The fabricated micro switch offers outstanding radio frequency parameters for a very large frequency band, with actuation voltage and switching time less than 20 volts and 3 micro seconds, respectively.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Abbas Kouzani

Junior Nomani*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Uncovering Machinability Issues in Duplex Stainless Steels.'

Summary

The thesis work was aimed at resolving long established issues with difficult-to-machine materials. The main thesis contribution, is the academic community now has a better understanding of how the issue of built-up edge is occurring when machining duplex stainless steel alloys, which will aid in the machining sector.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Guy Littlefair

Michael John Norton*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Adaptive Robust Control of 6-DOF Autonomous Aerial Vehicles.'

Summary

This research focused on development of an auto-pilot system for UAV's and small fixed wing aircraft for use in hazardous flight conditions, such as severe weather. This led to development of a mathematical algorithm that unbinds the flight systems from coupling effects which can be adaptively changed to the environment.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Sui Yang Khoo

Esfandiar Pakdel*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Surface Functionalization of Textiles with TiO<sub>2</sub>-Based Nanocomposites.'

Summary

This research introduced some properties such as the self-cleaning, antimicrobial activity and UV protection to wool and cotton fabrics, analyzing the impact of influential parameters on the obtained results. The research findings arising from the assessment of diverse aspects of fabrics, coated with colloids, have made a contribution to the field by providing a clearer view on the concept of functionalised textiles.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Xungai Wang

Lisa Jane Parkinson*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Perceptual and Anti-Inflammatory Effects of Oleocanthal, an Olive Oil Phenolic.'

Summary

Oleocanthal a virgin olive oil phenolic produces varying intensities of irritation in the oropharynx in individuals and is also a naturally occurring NSAID effective in reducing inflammatory markers and increasing protein synthesis in skeletal muscle cells. There may be a link between the variation in throat sensitivity to oleocanthal and its effects on muscle growth processes and inflammation.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Russell Keast

Gayathri Devi Rajmohan*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Investigation of the Potential of Plasma Technology to Improve the Performance of Solar Cells.'

Summary

This study explored plasma techniques to improve the efficiency of dye sensitised solar cells and perovskite solar cells. It was found that plasma functionalization of TiO<sub>2</sub> improved dye absorption, thereby improving efficiency. Controllable nitrogen doping of TiO<sub>2</sub> was achieved by a unique system that combines plasma with heat treatment. The doping reduced the band-gap of TiO<sub>2</sub>. A crystalline TiO<sub>2</sub> thin film on plastic substrates was successfully achieved by a low temperature plasma method, which could potentially allow such soft and flexible substrates to be used for solar cells.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Jane Dai

Christopher Reed*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Origins, Development and Perceived Effectiveness of Horticulture-Based Therapy in Victoria.'

Summary

This study found that horticulture based therapy in Victoria provides a wide range of benefits in health and community settings. Programs were largely informal and provided by dedicated individuals. A higher profile and professional systems and structure would assist therapeutic horticulture to reach its potential in Victoria.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Claire Henderson-Wilson

Sarah-Jane Robinson*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Patterns of Sedentary Behaviour and Cardiovascular Health in Children.'

Summary

Children engaged in high levels of sedentary time, particularly during class and leisure time. Different types of screen behaviours and patterns of sitting time were adversely associated with cardiovascular health. Not all screen behaviours may be equal and the way sitting time is accumulated may be important to cardiovascular health.

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Jo Salmon

Rachael Elliott Schmidt*Whose thesis was entitled:

'In-depth Case Study of Australian Seating Service Experience: Stakeholders' Perspectives.'

Summary

An in-depth case study into Australian wheelchair-seating service experience provides, for the first time, evidence-based service benchmarking. As matching wheelchair-seating technology with complex mobility needs is complex, accurate service benchmarking provides new best practice service guidelines for appropriate resources according to case complexity. This enables robust person-centred specialised wheelchair procurement.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Karen Stagnitti

Vadim Shterner*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Temperature and Grain Orientation Dependence of Mechanical Twinning in a High Manganese TWIP Steel.'

Summary

This thesis contains fundamental studies of the deformation mechanisms of the third generation steel at different deformation temperatures. To analyse the microstructure of the steel a unique characterisation technique was implemented for the first time. These analyses provided with vital parameters for modelling the stress-strain behaviour of the steel at different deformation temperatures.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Ilana Timokhina

Muhammad Nadeem Shuakat*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Electrospinning of Nanofibre Yarns Using Rotating Ring Collector.'

Summary

In this project, a novel ring collector was used to convert newly electrospun nanofibres into yarn. This setup has been designed to separate electrospinning from yarn drafting/twisting in two distinct zones. Three different types of electrospinning systems, i.e. needle, needleless, and needle/needleless hybrid, were utilized to produce nanofibre yarns.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Xungai Wang

Jacqueline Tran*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Monitoring Training Loads and Athlete Wellness: Relationships with Rowing Performance.'

Summary

This research provides initial evidence that a novel measure of training load, the T2minute method, is accurate for quantifying training in high performance rowing. This work also explored athlete wellness and rowing performance, with findings suggesting that the wellness-performance relationship is complex and changes over time due to individual-specific factors.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Paul Gastin

Paige Felicity Van Der Pligt*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Opportunities to Promote Healthy Maternal Weight During and Following Pregnancy.'

Summary

This thesis has identified opportunities for provision of support for women to attain a healthy weight and healthy diet and physical activity behaviours during and following pregnancy. A better understanding of strategies to promote optimal support to women during the postpartum period has been achieved.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Karen Campbell

Grace Elizabeth Vincent*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Fighting Fires and Fatigue: Sleep, Physical Activity, and Physical Task Performance.'

Summary

During bushfires, firefighters often work long shifts with little sleep. This research showed that although firefighters' sleep is restricted, it does not adversely affect their ability to perform physical tasks. This contrasts the cognitive impairments associated with sleep loss and could prompt revision of fatigue management guidelines in physically-demanding occupations.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Brad Aisbett

Yu Wang*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Surface Modification of Titanium for Biomedical Applications.'

Summary

In this research, strontium (Sr) and surface modification were used to improve the biocompatibility of titanium (Ti) based implant materials. Novel Ti-SrO metal matrix composites (Ti-SrO MMCs) were fabricated via powder metallurgy to acquire enhanced mechanical and biomedical properties. Surface modification was undertaken by anodising a layer of TiO<sub>2</sub> nanotubes (TNTs) on Ti substrates. SrTiO<sub>3</sub>-TiO<sub>2</sub> heterostructured nanotubes (Sr/TNTs) on Ti were synthesised using the hydrothermal method. The synthesising mechanisms of TNTs and Sr/TNTs were investigated. The beneficial biological influence of Sr and the optimal concentration on the Ti based implant materials was researched.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Yuncang Li

Mingwen Zhang*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Preventing Wool Photoyellowing with Inorganic UV Absorbers.'

Summary

Novel nano-structured inorganic UV absorbers have been fabricated in this work to protect wool against wool photoyellowing. These inorganic UV absorbers also can be used in other fields for UV protection.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Xungai Wang

MASTERS DEGREES*MASTER OF APPLIED SCIENCE

'Development of play profiles: influence of disability on children's play.'

Summary

This thesis explored the nature of play of children with developmental delays: Autistic Spectrum Disorder, Down Syndrome, Developmental Delay and physical impairments, aged 4 to 6 years. Cognitive, language and fine motor abilities were found to have a statistically significant impact on play ability rather than the different disability groupings.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Karen Stagnitti

Rebecca Louise York*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Measuring and Evaluating Coaching Performance Using a 360° Feedback Process: A Development and Pilot Study.'

Summary

The research examined the development, design and use of 360° feedback in sports coaching. The results suggest that using outcomes in competition as a means of evaluating coaching performance overlooks many aspects of their work. 360° feedback is capable of providing a useful and insightful means of evaluating coaching performance.

MASTER DEGREES

MASTER OF ENGINEERING BY RESEARCH

Jeremy Alan Opie

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Modelling and Optimisation of an Aftermarket Radar System.'

Summary

This research investigates the issues surrounding the fitment of an aftermarket radar system for blind spot detection. The relationship between the azimuth angle of the fitment and the detection error are derived experimentally and theoretically for optimal fitment position prediction.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Douglas Creighton

Phillip Nicholas John Wyld

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Understanding the Effects of Crevice and Galvanic Corrosion for Seawater Desalination Plants Management.'

Summary

This research revealed the differences that occur when two forms of corrosion occur simultaneously in comparison to the individual corrosions, crevice and galvanic. It was shown that two forms of corrosion can actually reduce the amount of damage caused in selected conditions.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

ALFRED DEAKIN PROFESSOR

Council established the title of Alfred Deakin Professor to recognise members of Deakin University professoriate who have made a sustained, high level contribution to research at Deakin. The title is the highest honour the University can bestow on a member of academic staff.

PROFESSOR IAN CHEN

The title of Alfred Deakin Professor will be conferred upon Professor Ian Chen.

Professor Ian Chen joined Deakin University in 2009 as a Chair in Nanotechnology in the Institute for Frontier Materials (IFM). Professor Chen came to Deakin from the Australian National University where he was node head of the ARC Centre of Excellence for Functional Nanomaterials.

Professor Chen has published more than 200 peer reviewed journal papers and has a total citation of 3300. He is listed by the ISI Web of Knowledge as the #1 top-author in Australia under the topics of 'Nanotubes' and 'Ball Milling' and #5 top-authors in the world under 'Boron Nitride nanotubes'. He has given 75 invited presentations at international conferences and 46 lectures. He is a current member of the editorial board of three international journals and has served as a referee for more than 50 international journals and grant agents around the world.

Professor Chen has spearheaded a partnership with the China Iron and Steel research Institute where a nanoscience materials laboratory is devoted to his research collaborations and he has also assisted in forging a relationship with the Chinese Scholarship Council.

Professor Chen is a member of the ARC College of Experts and his expertise has been recognised internationally with his appointment as Adjunct Director of the Australia-China joint research centre for energy materials under the 1000 Talents Professorship program. Many laboratories around the world have adopted Professor Chen's invention of the ball milling and annealing method for mass production of nanotubes and nanowires and the method has been included in major nanotechnology reviews and university text books.

Professor Chen has received a total of $30m in research grant funding, including ARC Discovery projects on ultrafine boron nitride nanotubes ($360 000), nanoporous nanorods with improved electrochemical properties ($275 000) and porous nanosheets ($475 000). He has also been awarded five patents.

Professor Chen has supervised 25 research staff and 37 postgraduate students. These staff and students have also been extremely successful, with several Alfred Deakin postdoctoral research fellowships and ARC Discovery Early Career Researcher awards among them. In addition to his excellent research record and international reputation, Professor Chen has played an active role as a member of the IFM Executive Team and a reviewer of grant applications for IFM researchers.

AWARD OF HONORARY DEGREE

The honorary degree of Doctor of Science will be conferred upon Dr Megan Clark AC for distinguished service in the scientific and technological community.

DR MEGAN CLARK AC

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Dr Megan Clark AC, non-executive director of Rio Tinto and a member of the Australian advisory board to the Bank of America Merrill Lynch.

Dr Clark was the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO), Australia's national research agency, from 2009 to 2014 and prior to that was Vice President Technology and later Vice President Health, Safety, Environment, Community and Sustainability with BHP Billiton.

In 2014, Dr Clark was awarded a Companion of the Order of Australia for eminent service to scientific research and development.

Dr Clark has been a member of the Australian Prime Minister's Science, Engineering and Innovation Council and is a member of the World Economic Forum Advisory Panel to the 2015 Global Risk Report.

DOCTORAL DEGREES

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Yaara Aharon Rotman

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Challenges within the Annual Cycle of Long-Distance Migratory Waders Along the East Asian-Australasian Flyway.'

Summary

This research focuses on the conservation of migratory shorebirds, particularly in this part of the world. Loss of habitats is one of the greatest threats and prioritising the conservation of these habitats is of great importance to the future of these species.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Marcel Klaassen

Maud Berlincourt

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Foraging Strategies and Reproductive Success in Two Sympatric Seabird Species: Influence of Environmental Variability.'

Summary

This work focused on flexibility in foraging strategies in little penguins and short-tailed shearwaters, which represents an important mechanism enabling them to cope with highly dynamic ecosystems and provides a buffer against spatial and temporal changes in prey availability over the breeding period.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor John Arnould

Susan Ann Blaich*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Relationships Between Psychosocial Working Conditions and Multiple Employee Performance Measures.'

Summary

The outcomes of this study suggests employee performance should be taken into account when examining the effects of stress-related working conditions. Furthermore, this study highlights the need to pay careful attention to the types of analyses that are undertaken in stressor-performance research and not to assume the relationship between stress-related working conditions and employee performance parallels the stressor-health literature.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andrew Noblet

Melissa Cameron*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Characterisation of Vasodilatory Signalling Pathways in Lower Vertebrate Blood Vessels.'

Summary

This thesis provided new knowledge on the comparative physiology of blood vessel regulation in vertebrates. In particular, the evolution of the nitric oxide signalling system was characterised in amphibians and fishes. The study demonstrated that vascular regulation in lower vertebrates is as complex as the mechanisms described in mammals.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor John Donald

Vidanelage Damitha De Mel*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Omega-3 Fatty Acids and Zinc in Neuronal Cell Homeostasis and Survival.'

Summary

The main focus of this research was to investigate possible links between zinc, DHA, apoptosis and cell survival. The study also analyses the benefits of omega-3 FA's and the links between free zinc availability to neurodegeneration. Furthermore, this study was focused on developing a suitable cell culture model for neuronal research.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Cenk Suphioglu

Justin Ross Eastwood*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Ecology and Evolution of Beak and Feather Disease Virus in Platyercus Elegans.'

Summary

This thesis explores the complex ecological and evolutionary interactions between beak and feather disease virus and one of its hosts the crimson rosella. The work identifies several factors that predict viral infection in wild birds and determines how host population structure influences viral evolution.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andy Bennett

Kia Hadji Abootorab Kashi*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Determinants and Pre-Hire Outcomes of Social Recruiting Technology Adoption and Use: An Australian Study.'

Summary

Social Recruiting technologies such as LinkedIn and Twitter have been fast emerging as one of the modern recruitment methods. However, research on their effective usage is scarce and outpaced by organisational practice. This study addresses this gap by investigating the drivers of SR technology adoption on one hand, and their pre-hire outcomes on the other.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Connie Zheng

Anita Hamilton*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Importance of Digital Literacy in the Knowledge Era.'

Summary

Digital literacy is an essential skill in the knowledge era. This research found that occupational therapists recognise the importance of digital literacy and are willing to use digital technologies yet barriers exist. Improving digital literacy is a shared concern to be addressed at the individual, institutional, professional and societal levels.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Jo Coldwell-Neilson

Co-Supervisor:

Associate Professor Annemieke Craig

Sandra Joy Hillas*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Elite Athlete Selection System in Australia: Selectors' Perceptions.'

Summary

The system for selecting athletes in elite-level Australian sport was examined, through the eyes of a group of 21 volunteer and professional selectors. Their perceptions suggest that the system is improving, and becoming increasingly professional. System weaknesses are to a large extent counter-balanced by selectors' high level of commitment.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor David Shilbury

Brendan John Holland*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Exploring Two-Dimensional Chromatography and Chemiluminescence Selectivity for Complex Sample Analysis.'

Summary

Human, animal and plant samples contain a considerable number of chemical substances critical for supporting their existence. This thesis presents improved techniques to find and analyse these components to help us understand more about their roles in the complex jigsaw of life.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Xavier Conlan

Michaela Ainslie Jackson

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Deeper Insights, New Interpretations: Unhealthy Food Promotion to Under 18s.'

Summary

This work explores unhealthy food and beverage promotion to children and adolescents with members of the marketing and food and beverage industries, and public health professionals. It identifies areas of partial agreement, while emphasizing that responses cannot be separated from contextual factors that influence the way stakeholders understand this issue.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Paul Harrison

Wayne Michael Koster

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Movement Ecology and Conservation Implications for Riverine Fishes of South-Eastern Australia.'

Summary

This thesis investigates the movement ecology of four riverine fish species in south-eastern Australia and has filled key knowledge gaps that can directly assist their conservation and management. The findings highlight the need to understand species-specific details of fish behaviour and life history for the development of effective conservation and management strategies.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Gerry Quinn

Victoria Eleni Lambropoulos

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Rethinking the Employer's Summary Dismissal Power in the Employment Contract.'

Summary

The principal subject of this thesis is the employer's summary dismissal power under Australian contract law. This thesis addresses this gap in the scholarship and also proposes a new approach to resolving these disputes based on the proportionality concept. An employer's decision to dismiss its employees in this way should be commensurate to the detriment caused by the employee's actions. Therefore, one 'should not use a sledgehammer to crack a nut.'

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Mirko Bagaric

Cheng Li

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Exploiting Side Information in Bayesian Nonparametric Models and their Applications.'

Summary

This research is to exploit side information into advanced Bayesian nonparametric models. The study developed some novel models for data clustering and medical data analysis and also have made our methods scalable for large-scale data.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Dinh Phung

John McEvoy

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Movement Ecology of Nomadic Arid Zone Waterfowl.'

Summary

This thesis provides insights into the spatial and temporal patterns of movement in nomadic waterfowl, the response of birds to rapid environmental change, behavioural flexibility of avian movements and the ability of birds to locate seemingly unpredictable water bodies in vast arid landscapes.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andy Bennett

Milla Mihailova*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Olfactory signalling in an Avian Species Complex: The Crimson Rosella.'

Summary

Through behavioural experiments, this research discovered that crimson rosellas could discriminate between species, subspecies and sexes based on odour alone. Chemical analysis revealed that plumage odour differed between subspecies, season, sex and age. Finally, it was found that putative mammalian competitors and predators of the species could detect the plumage odour.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Andy Bennett

Luke Wesley Nyhof*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Biomedical Signal Filtering for Noisy Environments.'

Summary

This thesis addresses the issue of robustly attenuating multi-source noise from surface EEG signals using a novel Adaptive-Multiple-Reference Least-Means-Squares filter (AMR-LMS). In practice, the filter successfully removes electrical interference and muscle noise generated during movement which contaminates EEG, allowing subjects to maintain maximum mobility throughout signal acquisition and during the use of a Brain Computer Interface.

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Saeid Nahavandi

Edyta Rozycki*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Business Process Affordances.'

Summary

This research proposes a novel framework for incorporating psychological and social factors into the business process design. The framework promises to increase system adoption and decrease process bypassing, ultimately making an organisation's work more effective and efficient.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Jacob Cybulski

Vindaya Asanga Senadheera*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Adoption of Social Media by Australian Banks to Communicate with the Public.'

Summary

This thesis focuses on social media adoption by the Australian banks as a method of communication. It proposes a 'technology independent' adoption model with components that encompass sociotechnological factors governing the adoption of social media. The model can also be adapted by any business organisation and prove beneficial for future research.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Matthew Warren

Wen Hua Sharpe*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Determinants of Corporate Capital Structure: A Comparison of Public and Private Firms.'

Summary

This thesis investigates how capital structure decisions of private and public firms in the UK differ in regards to their ownership structure, information asymmetry (proxied by audit quality) and access to debt capital.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor George Tanewski

Shailendra Pratap Sonkar*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Synthetic Biology Based Metabolic Engineering of Saccharomyces Cerevisiae for Omega 6 and 3 PUFA Production.'

Summary

Metabolic engineering of PUFA biosynthesis pathway using codon optimized DGA1 (Diacylglycerol acyltransferase), FAA3 (Acyl-CoA synthetase), desaturase genes named D9D, D12D, D5D, D6D, D17D and D6E elongase gene was studied in saccharomyces cerevisiae. Engineered yeast strains successfully demonstrated increase in lipid accumulation, and heterologous biosynthesis of linoleic,  $\gamma$ -linolenic, dihomo  $\gamma$ -linolenic, arachidonic and eicosapentaenoic acid.

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Colin Barrow

Tamilselvi Thyagarajan*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Fermentation of Omega-3 and Carotenoid Producing Marine Microorganisms.'

Summary

The objective of the thesis was to understand and develop the process of fermentation in marine microorganisms for the production of omega-3 fatty acids and carotenoids. Among marine microorganisms, thraustochytrids that belong to phytoplankton group was identified as sources of omega-3 fatty acids and other valuable co-products. In this research, more efficient and cost-effective production of omega-3 oils and other value added products was discussed by addressing the below key objectives. Fermentation strategy using lower cost raw materials, particularly carbon. Screening for new strains that can naturally produce high levels of PUFAs together with useful co-products that can be harvested along with the omega-3 oil.

'Information Discovery in Multi-Dimensional Autonomous Wireless Sensor Networks.'

Summary

This thesis proposed four novel algorithms of information discovery for Multidimensional Autonomous Wireless Sensor Networks (WSNs) that can significantly increase network lifetime and minimize query processing latency, resulting in quality of service improvements that are of immense benefit to Multidimensional Autonomous WSNs are deployed in complex environments (e.g., mission-critical applications).

'Enriching Understanding of Young Adult Voter Decision-Making in the Australian Compulsory Voting Context.'

Summary

This thesis has provided insight into considering how the consumer behaviour theoretical concept of usage impacts on lower-involvement young adult voter decision-making within the Australian compulsory voting context. This differentiated replication of previous research extends the range of results under which decision-making factors hold in voter behaviour.

PRIZES AND AWARDS

ALFRED DEAKIN PROFESSOR

Council established the title of Alfred Deakin Professor to recognise members of Deakin University professoriate who have made a sustained, high level contribution to research at Deakin. The title is the highest honour the University can bestow on a member of academic staff.

PROFESSOR NEIL BARNETT

The title of Alfred Deakin Professor will be conferred upon Professor Neil Barnett.

Professor Neil Barnett joined Deakin University in 1991 as a Senior Lecturer following five years in industry and eight years in academic institutions in the United Kingdom. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1997 and in 2004 he was awarded a Personal Chair in recognition of his outstanding achievements in analytical chemistry. He served as Associate Dean (Research) for the (then) Faculty of Science and Technology from 2010 to 2012.

Professor Barnett's contributions to Analytical Chemistry has been recognised by his election as Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry in 1989 and the Royal Australian Chemical Institute in 1991. He has also received a number of honours and awards including the prestigious Royal Australian Chemical Institute, Analytical Chemistry Division Medal in 2003. He received the degree of Doctor of Science from Deakin University in 2005 and became an international editor of Analytica Chimica Acta in 2010.

Professor Barnett has been an active national advocate for his discipline and is currently a member of the Australian Research Council (ARC) College of Experts (2014–16) and has served on the ARC Future Fellows selection panel and as a Cluster Assessor for the ARC Excellence in Research for Australia exercise (2012).

Perhaps Professor Barnett's greatest enduring contribution at Deakin has been his enthusiasm and support for postgraduate research students; he has supervised more than 30 postgraduate students to completion, many of whom have gone on to have outstanding academic or industry-based careers in Australia and overseas. Professor Barnett's outstanding mentorship contributed to his former PhD students receiving prestigious grants and prizes.

Professor Barnett has produced more than 140 publications in international journals, with a current h-index of 30 and total citations over 3330. He has presented over 70 invited lectures and seminars at conferences, universities and industrial laboratories around the world. Professor Barnett's early experience with the iconic UK corporation Imperial Chemistry Incorporated (which later sold divisions to Zeneca and DuPont among others) encouraged his strong applied approach to chemistry research.

His work has attracted research partnerships with many industry collaborators including GlaxoSmithKline, CSIRO, Telstra, Victoria Police Forensic Science Centre, Forensic Science South Australia, Australian Federal Police and National Institute of Forensic Science.

Professor Barnett's research interests include:

- fundamental chemistry, spectroscopy and analytical applications of chemiluminescence
- flow analysis, HPLC, capillary electrophoresis and microfluidics
- applications in pharmaceutical production, process monitoring, oenology and forensic science
- identification and isolation of bioactives in plants.

Professor Barnett has served on a number of University committees including Academic Board, Research and Research Training Committee of which he was Chair from 2005–2009, the Research Management Sub-Committee, the University Research Advisory Committee, the Research Quality Framework Steering Committee, and the Excellence in Research for Australia Steering Committee.

Over his past 24 years at Deakin, Professor Barnett has clearly demonstrated outstanding and sustained commitment to the University as an excellent researcher, exemplary research student supervisor, dedicated mentor to early career researchers and as a national advocate for his discipline.

PROFESSOR MIRKO BAGARIC

The title of Alfred Deakin Professor will be conferred upon Professor Mirko Bagaric.

Professor Bagaric joined Deakin University in 2002 as an Associate Professor in the School of Law, Faculty of Business and Law. Professor Bagaric became a Professor and the Head of School in 2003. Until recently (30 June 2015) he was the Dean of Law and Head of the Deakin Law School within the Faculty of Business and Law.

Professor Bagaric graduated from Monash University with a BA/LLB (Hons) degree in 1992. He obtained a PhD from Monash University in 2001 for his thesis 'Punishment and Sentencing: A Rational Approach'. He was awarded the Mollie Hollman medal, which is awarded to the 'PhD student who has fulfilled all requirements for the degree and is judged to have presented the best doctoral thesis of the year'.

After a successful career in private practice for nearly eight years, Professor Bagaric commenced his academic career as a lecturer in 1999. In 2003 he was promoted to Professor and Head of School at Deakin University. This is perhaps the quickest accession to a professional position in Australian legal academic history (less than 4.5 years from level B to E).

Professor Bagaric's career has been marked by a prodigious and high quality research output. He is the author or co-author of 30 books and over 130 articles in leading international journals including the Buffalo Law Review, the San Diego Law Review, the Michigan Journal of Race and Law, the Albany Law Review, Law and Inequality, the University of San Francisco Law Review, the Berkeley Journal of Criminal Law, the Brooklyn Journal of International Law and the Criminal Law Review. He has also published in all of the leading Australian law journals, including the University of New South Wales Law Journal, the Sydney Law Review, Melbourne University Law Review and the Monash Law Review.

Since 2010, when journal rankings came into existence, Professor Bagaric has published 30 articles, 24 of which are in A* or A journals. A recent benchmarking exercise comparing the research output and quality of research of all legal academics in Victoria (except those from Victoria University and Australian Catholic University), showed that Professor Bagaric was the best performing law academic in the State.

Professor Bagaric's main work is in the area of punishment and sentencing. He has also written extensively in migration and refugee law and human rights law. His articles have been cited in over 50 court judgments, including the High Court of Australia and superior courts in Canada, Singapore, New Zealand and Ireland.

His research actively and regularly engages with the community, having authored approximately 500 opinion pieces on a range of socially relevant and important legal topics which have appeared in all of the Australia's leading newspapers. He appears regularly in the electronic media as an expert commentator on his research areas.

Professor Bagaric has influenced public debate and legislative change in the areas of refugee law and sentencing. His current main research priority is encouraging governments to implement an evidence based and normatively sound sentencing system, which secures four objectives; to reduce crime, to punish criminals appropriately, to minimise the cost of the system and to ensure the system does not violate important moral standards.

Professor Bagaric is one of 18 contributors to Future Proofing Australia (MUP, 2013) which was edited by the Federal Senator and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Foreign Affairs. The foreword to the book is written by former Australian Prime Minister Tony Abbott who stated that the authors are 'big thinkers on big ideas'.

Professor Bagaric has extensive legal experience. He is a former member of the Migration and Refugee Tribunal, where he wrote several defining decisions which at that time resulted in many Afghan asylum seekers being granted refugee status in Australia. He is still a practicing lawyer, mainly in the area of white collar crime. He has appeared at courts at all levels of the judicial hierarchy including the High Court of Australia and represented accused in some of the most high profile and important legal cases in Australia's recent legal history.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Mr Mark Stone, Chief Executive of the Victorian Employers' Chamber of Commerce and Industry (VECCI), Victoria's most influential business organisation.

Mark Stone is a Director on the Board of Tourism Australia and the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry. He is also an Australia Day Ambassador and Fellow of the Williamson Leadership program.

Prior to joining VECCI, Mr Stone was the Chief Executive of Tourism Victoria. This followed a 12 year period as Chief Executive of Parks Victoria, which manages one fifth of Victoria's land area, employs 1200 staff and has a $4 billion asset base.

DOCTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Maureen Maje Blane-Brown

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Career Perceptions of Young Professionals Across the Life Cycle: How Work-Life Balance is Met by Identified Career Anchors: Implications for Organisations.'

Summary

In a qualitative longitudinal study, this thesis yielded valuable information about the changing work-life balance needs and related career anchors of young professional employees over time, including as a result of changes in life roles and work responsibility. As a result, a key message for organisations is to increase the flexibility of work-life policies to match the different life stages of employees in order to facilitate improved employee well-being.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr John Molineux

Michael Daniel Mawondo

Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Antecedents of Donor Retention for Non Profit Organisations: An Empirical Analysis.'

Summary

This research investigates the antecedents which impact on donor behavioural intention. SEM was the analytic tool whereby five constructs namely; commitment, involvement, recognition, satisfaction and trust were modeled. Four of the antecedents investigated have a direct impact on donor retention. Moreover, involvement mediates the relationships between recognition and donor retention.

AWARD OF HONORARY DEGREE

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws will be conferred upon Dr Helen Szoke for distinguished public service in the fields of anti-discrimination, equal opportunity and humanitarian leadership.

DR HELEN SZOKE

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Dr Helen Szoke, Chief Executive of Oxfam Australia.

Dr Szoke commenced as Chief Executive of Oxfam Australia in January 2013. Prior to this appointment, she served as Australia's Federal Race Discrimination Commissioner, following seven years as the Victorian Equal Opportunity and Human Rights Commissioner.

Dr Szoke is currently Co-Chair of Make Poverty History, an ExCom member of ACFID, and a member of the Deakin University Master of International and Community Development Advisory Board. She also sits on the Executive Board of Oxfam International.

In 2011, Dr Szoke was awarded the Law Institute of Victoria Paul Baker Award for contribution to Human Rights. In 2014 she received the University of Melbourne Alumni Award for Leadership.

Dr Szoke has extensive experience in management, community development, organisational development, consumer advocacy and regulation in the education and health sectors. She is a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and a Fellow of the Institute of Public Administration.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

John Charalambous

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Writing Another.'

Summary

In 'Writing Another', this thesis explores the productive unease of fictional characterisation.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Antonia Pont

Libbie Kindalun Chellew

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Uncanny Suburbia and Australian Fiction.'

Summary

The thesis consisted of both short stories and analysis of Patrick White, Peter Carey and Helen Hodgman. Researching how everyday life can be rendered unhomey and unsettling; and focusing on the representation of women, particularly mothers, resulted in new insights into Australia's literary relationship with suburbia.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Cassandra Atherton

Amanuel Elias

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Measuring the Economic Consequences of Racial Discrimination in Australia.'

Summary

Racial discrimination results in economic inefficiency. This thesis has investigated its impact and estimated, for the first time, the health-related costs attributable to racial discrimination. The study found that the Australian economy incurs substantial loss due to the burden of disease associated with the exposure of minorities to racial discrimination.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Matthew Clarke

Soraya Fooladi

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Factors Influencing Students' Choice of Mathematics at University.'

Summary

This study investigated what motivated current undergraduate mathematics students to choose to study mathematics at university. It found a diverse array of factors perceived by students as having informed their decisions. These included background factors, situational factors, self-perception, and perceptions of mathematics as a discipline and as a potential pathway to a future career.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Susie Groves

Stephanie Forsyth*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Txeemsim and A Journey of Transformation – Decolonizing Post-Secondary Education.'

Summary

Colleges are the product of colonial government policies that established and support mainstream educational models. Eurocentric perspective dominates all aspects of these institutions and is frequently un-yielding to Indigenous perspectives, values and educational approaches. This thesis outlines the transformation change of one College to incorporate and honour the Indigenous paradigm.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Chris Hickey

Kristoffer Graham Greaves*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Australian Practical Legal Training (PLT) Practitioners' Engagements with Scholarship of Teaching and Learning.'

Summary

Drawing on Bourdieu's reflexive sociology and Certeau's heterological science to investigate individual and extra-individual dimensions of Australian PLT practitioners' engagements with scholarship of teaching and learning, this thesis identified obstacles and opportunities for recognition of professional legal education and training as emergent professional practice in law and education.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Julianne Lynch

Benjamin Russell Hall*Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Rise of the Anglican Orthodox Church in Solomon Islands.'

Summary

This research examines an Anglican schism in Melanesia which led to the rise of a new church and argues that the new church was a response to the fundamental importance of territory. The result is a new social formation called the Segmentary Church Society.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Rohan Bastin

Ahmed Abdul Karim Hassin*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Roles of Civil Society in Nation-Building and Post-Conflict Reconstruction in Iraq.'

Summary

This thesis aims to provide a nuanced typology of post-2003-war Iraqi CSOs that reflect their functions, rather than their manifestations, by analysing and examining their roles in socio-economic service provisions and active citizenship; the impact of their roles in nation-building; and the geographic field (rural or urban) of their activities.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Fethi Mansouri

Michael Kevin Hatherell*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Indonesia's National Parties and the Representation of a Diverse Society.'

Summary

This study explores laws that promote the nationalisation of Indonesia's political parties, and considers what this means for the representation of a diverse society. Overall, the research finds that the laws have restricted the development of political parties, but not for the reasons commonly expected.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Damien Kingsbury

Damien Michael Lyons*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Literacy in and for the 21st Century.'

Summary

This research explores teachers' beliefs about what constitutes 21st century literacy learning environments, what they perceive to be the literacy practices year 6 students need to be exposed to now, compared to what they may require in the future, how this learning is enacted, and some of the factors that influence their pedagogical practices and decision-making. The thesis employed both narrative inquiry and hermeneutic phenomenology approaches to collect, interpret and present the stories from the research participants. The findings offer insights into teacher practices and decision-making concerning literacy in and for the 21st century.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Muriel Wells

Janice Arminal McClennan*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Creative and Literary Responses to Australian Middle-Class Experiences of Financial Upheaval.'

Summary

This thesis – comprising a novel, The Company He Keeps, and exegesis – explores the near absence of literary fiction written about the Australian Middle Class and their responses to financial stress (1980 to 2008), finding that the language of global economic reform has triumphed over political discourse and, in particular, silenced women.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Patrick West

Juliet O'Connor*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Traditional Indigenous Australian Stories for Children.'

Summary

This thesis explores how Aboriginality is portrayed in texts that offer specific representations of Indigenous Australian culture through traditional story or legend. It examines a selection of texts from the twentieth century and makes observations about the significance of these postcolonial publications in transforming reader understanding of Indigenous traditional culture.

Principal Supervisor:

Alfred Deakin Professor Clare Bradford

Chelsea Piper Rodd*Whose thesis was entitled:

'War and its Resistance in Canada and Australia.'

Summary

This thesis is a comparative history of Canada and Australia's experience of war and war resistance spanning four centuries. It explores the meaning of war and its historical practice for both colonial societies, offering critical insight into the meaning of nationalism and the evolution of popular and public democracy.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Bart Ziino

Eko Nugroho Mardi Saputro*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Indonesian Approach to ASEAN Plus Three Financial Cooperation: Power Relations, Domestic Politics, and Regulatory Regionalism.'

Summary

This study examines Indonesia's responses to financial regionalism within ASEAN Plus Three cooperation. It derives largely from the discussions, debates and empirical findings on how the Indonesian financial agencies exercise their authority and mandates, formulate policy coordination with international counterparts, and internalise and execute policy options into domestic financial regimes.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Matthew Clarke

Julie Anne Soares*Whose thesis was entitled:

'An Ardent Internationalist: Ben Chifley and the New World Order.'

Summary

This thesis traces the evolution of J.B. Chifley as an economic internationalist. It demonstrates that his role in Australian foreign policy in the 1940s has been vastly underestimated. A significant feature of the thesis is the attention paid to Chifley's speeches in a wide range of political and community forums.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Christopher Waters

Ruby Louise Todd*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Reframing the Turn: Toward an Ethical Poetics of Eco-elegy and the Counterpart (an Excerpted Novel).'

Summary

This practice-led thesis, comprising of an excerpted literary novel and an extended theoretical essay, explores the relations between ethics, elegy and ecology, and proposes a framework for rethinking an ethical poetics of eco-elegy.

Principal Supervisor:

Dr Antonia Pont

Alexandra Nicole Wake*Whose thesis was entitled:

'Aiding Journalism: Australian Journalism Educators and their Work in Post Conflict States.'

Summary

This thesis presents a comprehensive thesis of Australian journalism education and training in the context of foreign aid and policy, particularly as applied in the Solomon Islands. Although it is essentially about journalism, the thesis also adds to the field of development studies. Bourdieu's field theory was used to underpin the critical analysis.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Damien Kingsbury

Brad Anthony Watson

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Child Sponsorship Non-Government Organisations (NGOs): Origins, Evolution and Motives for Change.'

Summary

The thesis explored issues in Child Sponsorship, a phenomenon impacting millions of children annually.

Principal Supervisor:

Professor Matthew Clarke

Sharon Lee-Ann Watson

Whose thesis was entitled:

'Life-Context Interactions and their Contributions to Postgraduate Distance Learning.'

Summary

This thesis explores the learning contributions of interactions between distance learners and other people in their lives about the academic content of their studies. It proposes new ways of conceptualising learning and learner interaction modes in distance education, and a new approach to distance education program design.

Principal Supervisor:

Associate Professor Mary Dixon

FACULTY OF ARTS AND EDUCATION

MASTER DEGREES

MASTER OF ARTS BY RESEARCH

Emma Clare Hayes

Whose thesis was entitled:

'The Scarlet Legacy Representations of the Single Mother.'

Summary

This thesis, a memoir and exegesis, focuses on representations of the single mother. The exegesis critically examines the demonisation of single mothers in popular culture. The memoir relates her incredible journey into single motherhood and the legacy of love passed down through multiple generations of single mothers in her family.

DEAKIN UNIVERSITY ALUMNI COMMUNITY

Congratulations on becoming a graduate of Deakin University and welcome to Deakin's Alumni community. Deakin is proud of your achievements and invites you to continue your active involvement in your journey of life-long learning. As an alumnus you join a globally active network of 200 000 graduates from across 110 countries spanning the globe.

WHAT IS THE DEAKIN UNIVERSITY ALUMNI COMMUNITY?

The Deakin Alumni Community enables you to maintain or reconnect with your student, academic and professional networks, by building awareness and by offering programs and opportunities that will benefit and engage alumni throughout your personal and professional lives.

Deakin Alumni offers a varied program of benefits, communications and events that will help you keep in touch and engaged with the University.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP?

As a Deakin alumnus you have global access to a range of exclusive benefits, including:

- 10% bursary on postgraduate course fees (conditions apply)
- professional development seminars and webinars
- free library membership to be renewed on an annual basis
- free career development advice for 12 months following your graduation
- online news services and social media
- dKin print and e publications
- mentoring opportunities
- volunteering opportunities
- annual invitations to over 100 varied programs and events held globally
- a number of prioritised discounts provided by third parties – for example motor leasing arrangements.

ALUMNI POSTGRADUATE COURSE FEE BURSARY*

Deakin Alumni members, their spouses and children can now apply to receive a 10% discount on the cost per unit of any postgraduate award course at Deakin University for the duration of the course. This offer is only available for new course enrolments from Trimester 1 2015 to Trimester 3 2015 inclusive.

* Conditions apply – visit deakin.edu.au/alumni for more details.

HOW MUCH DOES DEAKIN UNIVERSITY ALUMNI COMMUNITY MEMBERSHIP COST?

Membership is free of charge.

HOW DO I JOIN DEAKIN UNIVERSITY'S ONLINE ALUMNI COMMUNITY?

Activate your alumni membership account at: engage.deakin.edu.au/alumni-home?tab=1 and take advantage of the many benefits.

WHERE CAN I OBTAIN FURTHER INFORMATION?

For more information visit the Alumni website at deakin.edu.au/alumni.

Let's continue the conversation together and build a vibrant national and international alumni community. Share your stories and progress after graduation. Give us your feedback. Keep in touch. The University values your interaction.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

ADVANCE AUSTRALIA FAIR

Australians all let us rejoice,
For we are young and free;
We've golden soil and wealth for toil,
Our home is girt by sea;
Our land abounds in nature's gifts
of beauty rich and rare;
In history's page, let every stage
Advance Australia Fair!
In joyful strains then let us sing,
Advance Australia Fair!
